

Remote Administration and Management

Does your company need Network Administration problems solved on a cost-effective basis?

Many businesses, typically, do not have the resources required to focus on the management of systems.....until now. Remote Administration and Management Services (R.A.M.) from the Brighton Group allow businesses to run smoothly while systems are accessed, monitored and supported remotely from anywhere and at anytime without the cost of maintaining a dedicated in-house IT staff.

RAM provides a comprehensive suite of services including remote monitoring, performance reporting, problem resolution, system upgrades and technical assistance. These services remove the burden of increasingly complex technology from your day-to-day operations allowing you to focus on what's important—your business.

Benefits of RAM

- > Reduces operational costs
 - > Improves company focus on core competencies and strengths.
 - > Keeps you current with today's rapidly changing technologies.
